

VOLUNTEERS NEEDED!

Young at Art Docents

Young at Art is an art enrichment program that serves the creative needs of all our children enrolled in Hermosa Beach and Manhattan Beach schools from Kindergarten through Middle school.

Through parent volunteers like you, our children learn the history of humanity through art and artifacts both historic and current. They learn to understand the human need to celebrate through art and about the riches of our various cultures.

We teach about famous artists, we teach about tribal artifacts and along side the kids we learn to recreate this art and add our own interpretations and creativity. We encourage them to express themselves and the outcome is wonderful.

YOU DO NOT HAVE TO BE ARTISTIC. Just remember that we are getting incredible pieces of art from our 5 year olds in this wonderful program. Please consider that if a five year old can do so well at this, so can you!

We need one or two volunteers per class for this next school year. There will be six lessons during the school year. All Docents gather together to learn how to do the project from our Young At Art Board, then with provided supplies, the docent will go into a classroom and together with the kids accomplish some great stuff.

It is a lot of fun and tremendously rewarding. It also gives you an opportunity of getting to know some of the kids in school.
